On Monday evening, it was my great joy, to be on the campus of Gwynedd Mercy University, for the 2025 John Cardinal Foley Lecture Series on the Church & Social Communications. I joined Bishop Keith Chylinski, Auxiliary Bishop of Philadelphia and Current Rector of the Seminary; Father Thomas Daily, O.S.F.S., Cardinal Foley Chair of Homiletics and Social Communications; Reverend Christopher Redcay, next Rector of the Seminary; and all who attended. We were blessed to have Montse Alvarado, President and Operating Officer of EWTN News as the guest lecturer. It was a wonderful and insightful evening for all!

This series is sponsored by the Cardinal John Foley Chair of Homiletics and Social Communications at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary.

Last evening the St. Charles Borromeo Seminary John Cardinal Foley Lecture was given by Montse Alvarado, President and COO of EWTN News. Our parish evangelization coordinator and members of our parish Walking with Purpose women's bible study group thoroughly enjoyed her talk and the question/answer session.

The message that the Church (ie, including all of us) and our engagement with public communication tools can be both valuable and challenging for the discipleship goal that all Catholics develop meaningful relationships with Jesus Christ resonated with the audience.

Our parish group appreciated the graciousness of Montse Alvarado and Archbishop Nelson Perez to chat with them afterwards.
